Commissioner sets goals

Balance was the keyword as Commissioner Jamie Fox recently addressed Governor James E. McGreevey's Transportation Transition Team members about future NJDOT projects.

"We need to balance current needs with a plan – a vision for New Jersey's future," said Fox.

Concerned with the legacy for future generations Fox cited the problems of clogged roads, lack of parking at train stations and neglected bridges.

"We will improve the quality of life for New Jersey's residents and the air they breathe," said Fox. "We will make NJ TRANSIT trains more reliable, expand service and give our New York bound customers a seat by fall."

Specific goals for a "responsible and strategic management of this state's transportation resources" are: to support urban redevelopment; to complete the "Fix-It-First" infrastructure projects; to consolidate the Garden State Parkway and NJ Turnpike Authority; and to fix the Division of Motor Vehicles and E-Z PASS.

Fox sees the financial road to achieving these goals lean, but attainable if used more wisely. He cited the $2.5 billion investment (the same as last year's budget) and $290 million allocated for bridge repair as a good start.

"Not every project will be funded," said Fox. "We have to secure our share of federal transportation dollars with the upcoming reauthorization of TEA-21 . . . I do know Washington and how federal transportation dollars have been spent . . . we cannot afford anything less than our fair share this time around."

McGreevey's Transportation Transition Team members included former NJDOT commissioners Ann Canby, Hazel Gluck, Kathy Stanwick, Lou Gambaccini and Alan Sagner. Some of the other members include Congressman Robert Roe, James Crawford, Executive Director of the South Jersey Transportation Authority, Michael LaPolla, Executive Director of the NJ Turnpike Authority, Diane Legreide, Director of Motor Vehicle Services, Charles McManus, Chief Engineer of the NJ Highway Authority and George Warrington, Executive Director of NJ TRANSIT. Others came from the public and private sectors.

NJDOT thanks those who serve

"It's not everyone who can say they have worked 25, 30, 35, or 40 years for the same company," said Commissioner Jamie Fox at the recent Service Awards ceremony in the Headquarters multipurpose room.

This annual event at Headquarters saw 100 of the 302 recipients in attendance. The insert to this issue lists recipients of 15 years of service and up.

Commissioner Fox extolled the contributions of these employees as he personally congratulated and posed for a picture with each of the recipients. Employees received their plaques at the ceremony and will receive the pictures at a later date.

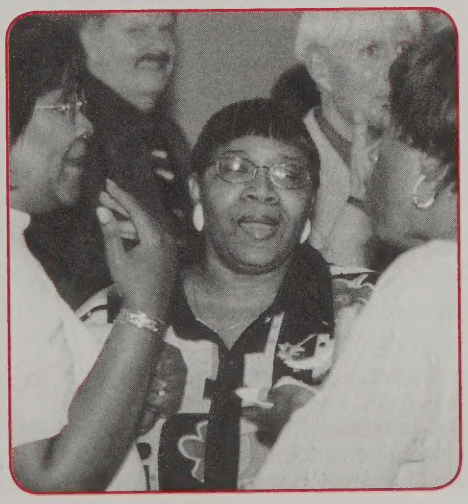
"You are the people who repaired the bridges, processed motor vehicle records, fielded customer service calls and managed our roads," he said. "You and your years of experience are needed."

This year the service awards ceremony had a different flavor as many of those receiving awards would leave the Department by June 30 as retirees. Added up, their service years equal thousands of years experience in routine and emergency work.

Commissioner Jamie Fox presents CPM's Carl Rebbeck with an award for 45 years of service.

And for those award recipients who will remain in the Department's workforce, Commissioner Fox remarked, "You are the people who will make the Department of Transportation run every day. There's so much to be done. And, I need you and your expertise to get them done. Thanks, those who serve."

New retirees pick up service awards first



Flanked by well wishers, Employee Support's Rose Day enjoys the moment.

Carl Rebbeck, Leona Tydryzewski, Betty Ann Briggs, Rose Day and John Demko are representative of NJDOTers who took time out to pick up their service awards and congratulations before embarking on their new lives as retirees.

Rebbeck, a Project Manager in Capital Project Management, who recently retired with 45 years experience, will travel to South America with the Hamilton Little Lads Basketball Association, his favorite cause.

While at NJDOT, Rebbeck played a significant role in the settlement of the

I-78 three-alarm blaze in an unlicensed dumpsite beneath Newark's I-78 bridge in August 1989. The out-of-control fire severely damaged the nine-span bridge between Newark and New York, which 100,000 commuters used daily.

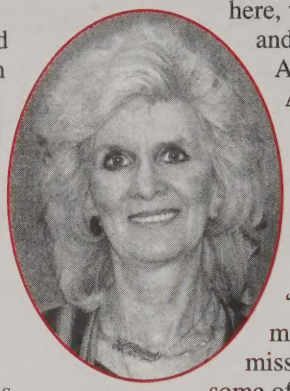
Rebbeck was instrumental in getting the new specifications developed on an emergency basis so the roadway could be reopened.

Although Rebbeck was the recipient at the June 7 Awards Ceremony with the most years, he didn't top Leona Tydryzewski, Supervisor 3 in the MVS Special Services Unit with 50 years service.

"I feel it's time to retire," said Tydryzewski. "I will spend time with my family in Amherst, NY, near Buffalo. And I will spend time at the Holy Cross School Reading Program."

Tydryzewski's moved around in her half-century career.

"I started as a Clerk Typist in the steno pool," she said. "When drivers lost their licenses or registrations we typed duplicates and sent them out. Then I moved to the Correspondence Unit, read incoming mail and answered it, then moved to the Refund Unit. It's been great here, working for Debbie Massari and Bob Damiani."



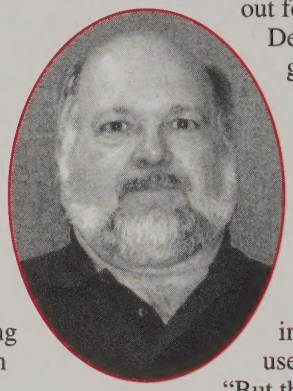
Briggs

Another MVSer, Betty Anne Briggs, has 41 years experience in the Driver Abstract area. A Supervisor 2, Briggs began in 1961as a clerk typist in the Accounting Unit and rose through the ranks.

"I always enjoyed my work and will miss interacting with some of the people," Briggs said. "But, I have other things to do. I may do volunteer work at St. Francis Hospital with the Angel Wings Foster Child Program. One thing I do know is that I'll enjoy watching my neighbors go to work from my balcony."

Rose Day, Personnel Assistant 3 in Employee Support received an award for 35 years of service and is opting for retirement.

"My first job was as a Clerk Typist in the Accident Records Unit of Motor Vehicle Services. Then I went to the Administration Office before coming to DOT," said Day. "I don't have special retirement plans, but I definitely have things to do."



Demko

John D. Demko has many memories of his 30 years at NJDOT as a Painter.

"The most memorable day," said Demko "was when I fell off the second floor roof of the Facilities Offices on Brunswick Circle. I wound up in the hospital with a separated pelvis and was out for four months."

Demko, who has two main goals — his new career in a bookshop and getting his daughter married and moved into her house — also remembers the "good old days" in the Department.

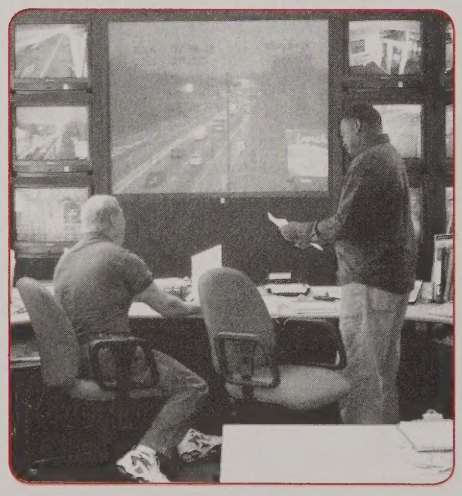
"We covered the whole state and traveled constantly. Workers built their offices out in the regions and in the winter used Coleman heaters.

"But the biggest change is in the makeup of the workforce, which was basically white male 30 years ago, with females hired only as clerks. Most of them were from Chambersburg or West Trenton. Today there are females in all jobs and the Department is a melting pot of New Jersey."

Fox announces I-295 projects with expanded ITS

Commissioner Jamie Fox announced two phases of a major project to reconstruct I-295 in Burlington and Camden counties that include expanding the Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) at NJDOT's Cherry Hill Traffic Operations Center.

Forty years old, the I-295 roadway between Cherry Hill and Mount Laurel averages 90,000 vehicles daily.



Mike Sickels, Traffic Operations Center Shift Supervisor, Engineering Technician I and Kelvin Dickens, Traffic Operations Center Operator, Engineering Technician 3 monitor the Cherry Hill closed circuit television.

"The constant wear and tear has caused stress on the roadway and stress for motorists, too," said Fox. "We will be replacing deteriorated pavement and bridges and installing state-of-the-art technologies to alert motorists to road construction and congestion. Design work is under way and construction will start by the end of this year."

The ITS system will provide closed-circuit cameras to monitor the highway for emergencies and congestion and variable message signs (VMS) to provide commuters with highway information. Cherry Hill is one of two ITS centers in the state.

Traffic Operations North's Center in Elmwood Park handles the 11 counties from Middlesex to Sussex; Cherry Hill handles the 10 counties from Mercer to Cape May.

"The VMS and cameras on the six-mile section under repair will be monitored from Cherry Hill," said Mark Smith, Project Engineer, Traffic Operations South. "Right now we hope to expand our fiber optic lines to improve

TEAM NJDOT walks to fight cancer

TEAM NJDOT's 20-hour overnight celebration to raise money for the American Cancer Society has once again topped itself. According to Chairperson Pat Bowker of Operations, collections totaled $15,517, $4,000 more than last year.

"We raised the most money this year, up from $7,027 in 2000 and $11,442 in 2001," said Bowker. "We had three official team co-captains, myself, Sue Belko of Operations and retiree Ceil Witkowski.

"Our original relay had eight participants; this year we had 86 participants and four collectors. Mary Kojsza of Accounting and Auditing collected the most, $703.51. Rita Hewitson of Legislative Analysis coordinated four bake sales and raised $1,233.

The Relay for Life is an annual event at NJDOT to honor cancer survivors and remember those who did not survive the battle. It parallels similar events throughout the state and the country. Not everyone takes part in the relay at once. While some are actively participating in the relay, others are resting before or after their turn in the relay, enjoying the camaraderie of the event.

"This year we walked in honor of 25 people and in memory of 49 individuals," said Bowker. "Quite a difference from the first year when we walked in memory of one person, Steve Garibaldi, who we still walk for every year."

Paul Hoffman of Region South Construction congratulates retiree Ceil Witkowski after completing the relay.

Shuffler hails Capital Connector project

Chief of Staff Eric Shuffler spoke at May's Tour de Sol event in downtown Trenton about NJDOT's commitment to environment and recognized the Department of Law and Public Safety, Department of Education and Department of Human Services for their participation in the Capital Connector Project.

An off-shoot of the recently concluded Project Power Commute electric station car program, the Capital Connector project reduced traffic into the capital complex by having state employees take the train into Trenton and then carpool via electric vehicle to their office locations. In the evening they carpool back to the station where they'll 'plug' the vehicle in for the night to fully charge.

"It's an electric station car program that we started in the fall of 2001," said Don Borowski, Manager of the Bureau of Transportation Technology. "Right now there are five cars in the program and 20 registered participants. The project vehicle, the Solectria Force, is superior because it runs on battery power and emits no pollutants. It's a good deal for participants too because it's free. "

Interested employees may find out more about the program by calling Project Manager Carl McCall at (609) 530-4592.

Chief of Staff Eric Shuffler describes NJDOT commitment to environment at the Tour de Sol event in Trenton.

Golfers, save the date!

Contact Howard Immordino at (609) 530-4415 in the Headquarters Main Office Building to sign up for the annual NJDOT golf outing. It will be held at the Cream Ridge Golf Club at 9:30 a.m. on September 9.

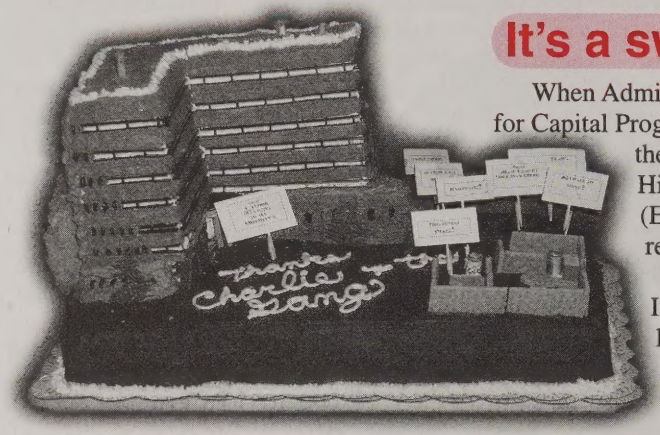
The $90 fee includes green fees, a golf cart, continental breakfast, prizes, refreshments, hot dogs and an indoor buffet. Dinner only is $25.

If you are an NJDOT employee or retiree and interested in this event, sign up now — it's limited to the first 128 paid participants.

Many thanks

Secretarial Assistant Patricia Konstant of Intermodal Corridor Coordination sends heart-felt thanks to the NJDOT family who generously donated their time when she was in need.

"I'm glad to be back after surgery. Thanks, everyone!" she said.



It's a sweet celebration

When Administrative Analyst I Paul Allen isn't working on the Operating Budget for Capital Program Management at NJDOT, he's turning on the heat at home – in the oven – to produce pastry perfections.

His latest was a confectionery replica of the Engineering and Operations (E&O) Building to celebrate the completion of 20 months of renovations on June 3.

"It took me about three hours to create this cake," said Allen, "but I thought it was fitting because of all the work that was done and the length of time it took to complete the seven floors of renovations. It's really a "thanks" to HVAC Coordinator Charlie Laurita, who was in charge of the E&O project."

Community Blood Council honors NJDOT employees

May 22 was a good day for Assistant Engineer Ashok Patel of the Bureau of Materials to give and to receive. He donated blood during the Community Blood Council drive at Headquarters; then he won a $25 gift certificate for Freddie's Tavern when his name was picked in a drawing held by the Council.

At noon the Council held a "thank you" ceremony at the Employee Memorial. They honored the following Department employees who are on the Ruby Platelet donor list for donating blood and blood platelets: John Argust, Automotive Mechanic, Operations Support; Al Ari, Chief, Contract Administration; Alanson Hall, Project Engineer, Surface Design, Design Services; Edwin Lawler, Senior Executive Service, Motor Vehicles Services; Robert McLaughlin, Manager 1, Information Processing; and Scott Thorn, Project Manager, Project Management.

Human Resources employees honored at the ceremony included Jerie Parker, representing the Ewing Complex, Maryann Rapciewicz, representing MVS, Lisa Cavanaugh, representing Central Region and Kim Morris, representing South Region received plaques for their organizational support of the annual drives.

Listen up, new retirees!

Just a reminder to new retirees who want the NJDOT employee newsletter sent to their homes that the mailing is not automatic.

To receive the Transporter on a regular basis, you must submit your name and mailing address to the Communications Office by e-mail at carriecamp@dot.state.nj.us or by phone at (609) 530-2127 or by FAX at (609) 530-5469.

NJDOT employees rank among state's best

Impressive. Fitting. Those words aptly describe the Public Service Recognition Program held at the War Memorial in Trenton on May 14.

Department of Personnel Commissioner Ida L. Castro welcomed participants and onlookers to the annual program that honors state employees for the contributions they made to public service during the previous year.

Employees who go beyond their daily job duties are all special, in different ways. The complete list of recipients is an insert to this publication. However, the following are some examples of honored NJDOTers and their accomplishments.

Heroism Award

A life saved. When Michael Murray, John Reynolds and Michael Metcalf of the Emergency Service Patrol (ESP) Team from NJDOT's Traffic Operations South arrived at the scene of an accident on the Route 29 Bridge over Lamberton Road in Hamilton Township last June, they noticed a cloud of smoke and fire from the nearby woods. A pickup truck ran down the embankment and caught on fire. Murray, Reynolds and Metcalf ran to the vehicle, extinguished the truck fire, and removed the unconscious driver from the burning vehicle.

John Reynolds, Michael Metcalf, Michael Murray, and of Region South Emergency Service Patrol (ESP) received heroism awards.

In the fast lane. Edwin Graham and John Jones are in tune with the dangers of their job area. While working Litter Patrol on I-280 eastbound in northern New Jersey, Graham and Jones saw an accident in the fast lane. To protect the victims from further harm, they parked their state vehicle behind the disabled vehicle. Within minutes, a driver who fell asleep while traveling in the fast lane crashed into the state vehicle. The quick-thinking actions of Graham and Jones saved several lives that day.

Co-worker Recognition Award

Communicating with a smile. She's the "Voice with a smile" at work. Verna Heath of the NJDOT Correspondence Unit goes above and beyond the requirements of her job description when it comes to helping the public. According to her co-workers, she's an over-achiever, knowledgeable, caring, professional and genuine. According to the public, she's informative and pleasant. In both instances, the 25-year employee exemplifies the best of NJDOT service.

Deputy Chief of Staff Tina Lado presents the New Jersey Co-worker Recognition Award to Verna Heath of NJDOT's Correspondence Unit.

Community Service Award

On 24-hour call. A certified Emergency Medical Technician for the Roebling Rescue Squad and a member of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Search and Rescue Team, CPM's Sharon Hartmann has been called to duty day and night to help with special rescue missions, including 9/11.

With fellow volunteers from both organizations, Hartmann participated in the rescue and recovery efforts following the terrorist attack at the World Trade Center. She recently received a citation from Congressman Frank LoBiondo for her work at the 9/11 site.

Not all awards recipients worked alone; they were cited as part of a team. Some examples of teamwork follow.

Deputy Chief of Staff Tina Lado presents the Community Service Award to Sharon Hartmann of CPM.

Exceptional Service Award

Quick work. Following the 9/11 attack, NJDOT's Design Services Team coordinated their efforts to design a temporary bus facility and parking area for NJ TRANSIT to use from various locations to Liberty State Park in Jersey City. Commuters could ride the buses to the New York bound ferries.

Team members developed a complete design within four working days — they began on September 19 and the facility was opened on September 24. Team members were Dave Bizuga, Junius White, Tom Sweeney, Pronoti Tahbildar, Kim Le, John Papp, Robert Blight, Robert Sauber, Pinakin Tank, Wladislau Szalaj, Roy Gustavson, Jim Takacs and Mike Gray.

camera reception and VMS control. For example, we have cameras and VMS on Route 37 between the Garden State Parkway and the Seaside Park Bridge in Ocean County.

"They are operated from Cherry Hill using T-1 or telephone lines," he said. "The reception is not as clear as it could be with fiber optic lines. The T-1 cannot carry the same bandwidth so the picture is not full motion. By comparison, the Trenton Tunnel (Route 29) cameras and signs are operated via fiber optic line, and the images are much clearer."

With the expansion of the ITS, fiber optic lines can be a direct connect from the state-of-the-art facility to cameras and the highway VMS. The project will add four cameras and two VMS to the six-mile stretch of I-295.

Professional Achievement Award

Improved production. Teamwork solved a problem in the Region South Maintenance Unit with a new federally funded program to install 34,000 utility pole delineators. Theodore Doyle and Bruce Rogers developed a small pole with a miniature laser attached to the top of the pole.

Because the rule of thumb is to place the delineator on the utility pole seven feet from the crown of the road, measurement was critical. Using the system developed by Doyle and Rogers, the rate of installation rose from 80 to 100 per day, at no additional cost to the Department.

Customer Service Excellence Award

Smoothing schedules. The MVS Trenton Regional Service Center has walk-in conferences and scheduled conferences for the public. MVS employees have worked in teams to handle the hundreds of daily customers without an extended waiting period.
